Two best friends decided to make something of their last summer together. With sessions twice a week (Tuesdays and Thursdays in between Charlie's swim practices) they messed around and bounced ideas off of each other to create Flesh Mountain. This collection of short strips is a testament to our friendship over the last few years. From a turtle whose shell is a brain to an inhumanly imprisoned badass, this book is a hoot and definitely a holler.

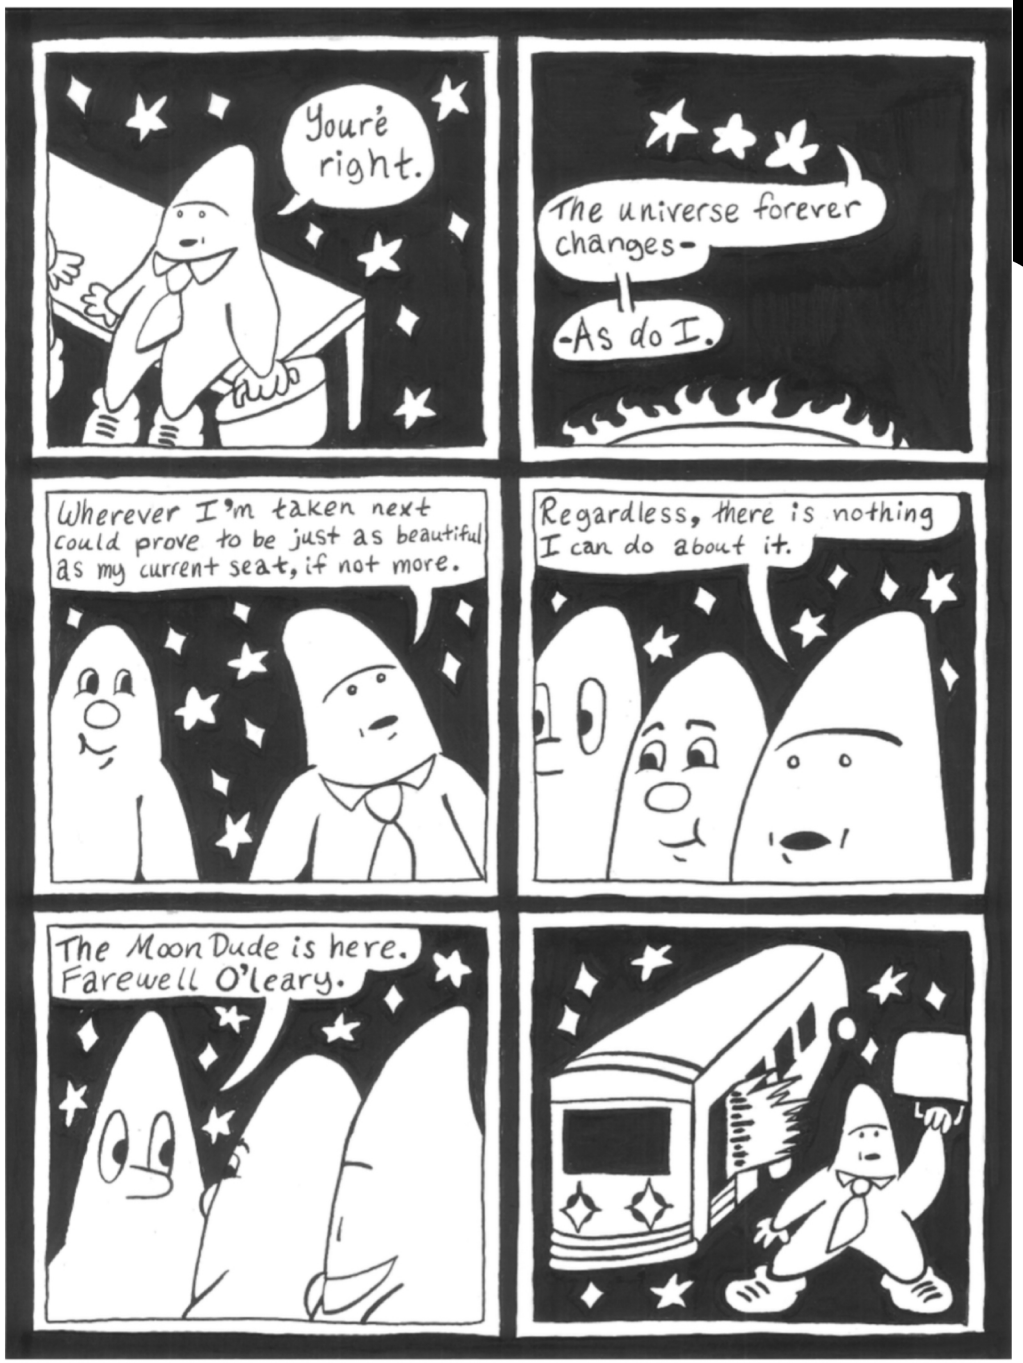
DOCTOR'S ORDER'S
hey doc?
Can I get some bigger ears Please
It is illegal for you to even say that
Would $1 million change your mind?
What did you just say?



You're right.
The universe forever changes-
-As do I.
Wherever I'm taken next could prove to be just as beautiful as my current seat, if not more.
Regardless, there is nothing I can do about it.
The Moon Dude is here. Farewell O'leary.

I've been a star for eons.
It's all I know.
I've always sat here. Everytime Sunny Boy had left, I'd found myself right here -
-I like sitting here.
Oh, but there is so much more to see, to be!
It's splendid, yes, splendid.
Becoming a wish is the greatest thing we stars can do!
After all-
-You can't be a star forever!

When Sunny Boy sets, the Moon Dude will be here.
And then he'll take me where I'll rest till the end of days.
That means you'll transform into a wish!
Splendid!
Well-
What about my wish?
Well, what is your wish?
I'm not sure.
